Participant Agreement

By registering to participate as a competitor in The North Shore Student Business Plan Competition, you grant The Enterprise Center, and its affiliates and assigns, the right to print, publish, broadcast, and use, worldwide in any media now known or hereafter developed, including but not limited to the World Wide Web, at any time or times, your name, portrait, picture, voice, likeness, biographical information, and all other information provided on your registration form as news or information and for promotional purposes without additional consideration.

You understand and acknowledge that The Enterprise Center, its board members, officers, sponsors, judges, coaches, and organizers are under no obligation to render any advice or service to you or any other competitor. The views expressed by these people are their own and not those of the North Shore Student Business Plan Competition.

As a registered participant, you take sole responsibility for protecting your rights or the rights of third parties in any intellectual property involved in the business described in submitted business plans. You also take sole responsibility for determining whether any third party has rights in any such intellectual property, notifying any such third party of inclusion of any disclosure of that intellectual property in a submitted business plan, and obtaining any necessary permissions from such third party. Further, we caution that disclosure of intellectual property in your submission may compromise or destroy those rights. The Enterprise Center is not responsible for the content of any submitted business plan or protection thereof, including disclosures relating to intellectual property.

You further understand, acknowledge, and agree that although the organizers of the competition will take reasonable steps to preserve the confidentiality to the concepts, ideas, and potential trade secrets contained in materials submitted as part of the competition, none of the board members, officers, sponsors, judges, coaches, and organizers are or will be liable for any loss, damage, or cost you may suffer by reason of the disclosure of these concepts, ideas, or trade secrets, the legal protection of which are your sole responsibility. Accordingly, and in consideration of the time and effort provided by such persons, you release and discharge each such person from any such loss, damage, or cost relating to or arising out of any such person's participation in the competition.

Publicity

In addition to cash awards, those winning the Student business plan competition will be the beneficiaries of an extensive publicity campaign conducted by The Enterprise Center. We'll announce the semi-finalists and invite the public to the final presentations. In addition, we'll announce the winners in the Boston media and in all the North Shore markets:

- In addition to the press releases, we will:
- Talk with business editors at Boston and local media to write stories about the competition.
- Use calendar section of newspapers to promote awards night.
- Email campaigns to our database of two thousand North Shore businesses, SBDC and more

We'll include promotional and explanatory sheets in major Chamber mailings and those of other key organizations.
