STARTING A BUSINESS: DO YOU HAVE WHAT IT TAKES?

Tuesday, January 8, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

Inspired, "downsized" or just ready to own your own business? Assess your entrepreneurship potential while getting an overview of the marketing, financial and operations issues involved in starting a business. Speaker: Paul Shaughnessy, Owner, Lincoln Consulting Group. Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

TEN TIPS TO IMPROVE YOUR SALES

Thursday, January 10, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

What makes a great sales call? Is cold calling worth it? Are you spending too much time selling versus helping people buy? What are the key objectives of all sales activity? Come learn about 10 proven principles that can make your next sale larger, easier and faster to close... even in today's online, 24/7, social media world. Speaker: Tony Santoro, Sales Consultant. Co-Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

FOCUS ON NON-PROFITS

JOINING FORCES FOR GREATER IMPACT

Tuesday, January 15, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

What does it mean for non-profits to join forces, pool resources and collaborate? Strategic alliances can range from program sharing to formal partnerships, joint ventures, and mergers. This interactive workshop examines how collaboration can enhance an organization's stability and its impact... so critical when limited resources make duplication of efforts irresponsible. We'll also review how to go about finding the right organization with whom to partner, what kind of agreement makes sense for you, and how to implement a good strategic alliance. Speakers: Bob French, Executive Service Corps, Lead Consultant; Michael Stauff, Executive Service Corps, Lead Consultant. Program Partner: Executive Service Corps. FREE

HOW TO GET A BUSINESS LOAN

Thursday, January 17, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

Chances are, you may need a bank loan at some point to finance and expand your business. But what does this entail? How much should you ask for? What are banks looking for? What kinds of documentation do they require? What is the difference between a bank loan and an SBA loan? Are there other sources of non-bank financing? Come listen to banking and loan officials—experts who work with small businesses every day—answer these very questions and describe to whom they lend money and how. Speakers: Charles Smith, Vice President—Small Business Administration Specialist, Eastern Bank; Jose Luis Rojas Villarreal, Senior Loan Officer, Massachusetts Growth Capital Corporation. Co-Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center and North Shore Alliance for Economic Development. FREE

THE BUSINESS OF... RESTAURANTS

Tuesday, January 29, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

The North Shore has developed a reputation for exceptional restaurants for all palettes, from seafood to ethnic foods and excellent American fare. So what is it like to be in the restaurant business? What does it take to start a restaurant? How do restaurateurs keep them going? How have restaurants changed in the past five years... and what do those in the know think will happen in the five years? Come listen to the executives of five different restaurants share their experience, where they are going, and what advice they have for someone who wants to start a restaurant. Speakers: Rafael Barbosa, Marketing Manager, FIRE+ICE Restaurants; George Carey, Founder, FINZ Seafood Restaurant, Salem, MA; Matt O'Neil, Chef/Owner, The Blue Ox, Lynn, MA; Jamie Strobino, Sr. Vice President—New Concepts, Uno Restaurants LLC. Co-Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

WHAT'S INVOLVED IN SELLING INTERNATIONALLY

Thursday, January 31, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

You want to take your business international. The time is right and you know there are markets available to you in Europe, China, South America and beyond. But how do you even start this process? Who can help you? How much time and money will it take to do this and what is the potential ROI? This workshop will discuss how to think through this process and access specific help that is available to you. The presenters should know; they represent two of the Commonwealth's major international trade agencies; their mission is to help Massachusetts companies export and succeed in international markets. Speakers: Kenneth R. Brown, Executive Director, MA Office of International Trade and Investment; Paula Murphy, Director, MA Export Center. Co-Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center and North Shore Alliance for Economic Development. FREE

FEBRUARY

BUSINESS LEGAL ISSUES

Tuesday, February 5, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

Ensure the smooth flow of your business by choosing the appropriate legal structure, obtaining permits and licenses, and protecting business assets. Although formal legal advice cannot be offered, this workshop will provide guidelines for your new venture. Speaker: William D. Norman, Esq., LeClairRyan. Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

HOW TO FIND AND CAPTURE YOUR TARGET DEMOGRAPHIC

Thursday, February 7, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

How do you get rich baking cookies? Sell them to Cookie Monster. Your best customers will pay the most. But how do you find and market to them without wasting money on dead-end approaches? In this interactive workshop you'll learn how to find your best customers, optimize traditional marketing, and get to the next level of social media outreach without buzzwords. Johnny Monsarrat, the founder of Turbine, the company that made Lord of the Rings Online, will share the unwritten secrets and tricks of the trade you haven't heard before. This is a session not to miss that could transform not only your business, but also your pocketbook. Speaker: Johnny Monsarrat, CEO, Hard Data Factory. Co-Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

TRANSITIONING FROM START-UP TO ONGOING BUSINESS

Tuesday, February 12, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

Congratulations! You've survived the start-up period for your new business, a feat that only 12 percent of entrepreneurs achieve. You're making some sales, looking to hire some staff and excited about the future. So now what? What are the issues you need to think about as you transition into a viable business where you won't be able to be so hands-on? What systems need to be in place—or need to change? How quickly can you grow and still stay on top of things? Come listen to an expert consultant and get a head start on how to take your company to the next level. Speaker: Richard A Langevin, Principal, Langevin Management Advisors. Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

LEAD, COMMUNICATE, AND MOTIVATE YOUR TEAM

Tuesday, February 26, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

Many consider leadership and communication the foundation for creating a successful business, but what does this mean for a small business? Come learn how your "communication ecosystem"—social media, printed marketing and interpersonal communication—works and how to align it with your mission and objectives. Equally as important, you'll learn how to bring employees on board so that everyone is speaking the same language both internally and externally. Speaker: Ezra Holland, Founder, The Holland Group. Co-Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

FOCUS ON NON-PROFITS CUSTOMER SERVICE FOR GOVERNMENT AGENCIES AND NON-PROFITS

Thursday, February 28, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

Excellence in customer service is as critical in the non-profit and public sectors as it is in the for-profit world. Treating your various audiences (donors, supporters, service recipients) well means actively listening to them, going out of your way to help them, delivering a quality product or service, encouraging complaints and handling them. Come listen to Salem State University's police chief talk about customer service excellence and share his experiences from the public sector perspective. He has stories to tell, strategies to suggest and tips to help your organization achieve customer service excellence. Speaker: Gene LaBonte, Chief of Police, Salem State University. Program Partner: Executive Service Corps. FREE

MARCH: IT'S TIME FOR TECH MONTH!

YOUR WEBSITE: IS IT UP TO SPEED?

Thursday, March 7, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

Whether you're working on your second or third website or just starting out and creating your first site, there's more to it than meets the eye. It's critical to make sure your website is completely ready before you begin handing out business cards and advertising. Does it work on a smartphone as well as a laptop? Is it designed to draw attention to the most important information? This workshop will help you think about how the content on your site is organized, how your site supports your brand image, and whether it works with other digital assets like email and social media to engage your audience. Speaker: Mike Flint, Owner, Principal, Metropolis Creative. Co-Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

ONLINE ADVERTISING: TOOLS, TECHNIQUES AND TIPS

Tuesday, March 12, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

In today's connected world, you have to put yourself out there online so that customers can find you. That gives real importance to online marketing and advertising, from Facebook and Google ads to news articles and Google SEO. How do you do this most effectively for your business? Find out in this workshop, where we'll discuss the differences between paid and unpaid ads, how to choose the channel that will work for you, and how to coordinate different channels. Speaker: Evan Saunders, Co-Founder and CEO, Attract China. Co-Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

SOCIAL MEDIA: WHAT'S HOT... AND WHAT'S NOT

Thursday, March 14, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

It seems everyone is talking about ways to use social media for business, but social media tools growing so quickly and changing so often that it's hard to know if you're using them in the best way. This workshop can help. We'll look at some of the newest tricks of the trade, discuss the pros and cons of these tools, and examine the tactics necessary to be successful in the social space. Last, but not least, we'll tackle the question everyone asks: How much time do I really need to spend on social media to get results? Speaker: Julia Campbell, Principal, J Campbell Social Marketing. Co-Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

INTERNET MARKETING

Thursday, March 21, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

The workshop will touch on natural and paid search engine marketing, developing keywords, shopping carts, web graphics and building your e-mail list to reach your target market. Speaker: Carol Sanger, The Web Division. Sponsored by the MA Small Business Development Center. FREE

WINTER 2013

NEW PROGRAMS FOR SMALL BUSINESSES

A PICTURE'S WORTH A THOUSAND WORDS

With the increasing popularity of Pinterest, Facebook and Twitter, for example, as vehicles to connect with potential and current clients, strategically incorporating photography and self-produced video becomes particularly important. They can be a great, high-impact way to deliver your business message... if you know how to use them to grow your network and generate referrals. Join us for a special two-part look at how to do this.

HOW TO CREATE MULTIMEDIA THAT SELLS

Tuesday, March 26, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

Engage clients, fans and followers with great photos and videos. Learn the dos and don'ts of using multimedia and how to develop your visual message and mission in this workshop. We'll also talk about what kind of camera gear you need and what is available in the way of free and easy-to-use software programs. Speaker: Julio Chuy, Multimedia Storyteller. Co-sponsored by MA Small Business Development Center.

Piranha Pond

PIRANHA POND

Tuesday, March 26, 8:30 to 10:30 AM

You've heard of the Shark Tank. Welcome to the Piranha Pond! At the Piranha Pond, selected entrepreneurs have up to five minutes to convince a panel of investors to meet with them to discuss funding their ventures. Using a format similar to the popular television show Shark Tank, investors provide feedback, ask questions, and opt "In" or "Out." If they are "In," they will meet with the entrepreneur at a later time to discuss their company. * If they are "Out," there is no interest at this time. Investors share the reasons for their decision.

This event is open to the public. If you'd like to apply to present go to www.piranhapond.com, where you find the application form and entrepreneur guidelines. Panelists to be announced and posted on the website as well.

Application fee to present: $50

Entrepreneurs and management candidates: $25

Service providers and investors: $35

*Does not constitute a commitment to provide funding.
